ing that poetry presents the most likely path to immortal fame, however unimpeachable it may be, a practical career during one's lifetime.

Within is the only American in the list, which may not be an over showing as it first appears, considering that the entire historical period from Moses onward is in the search for equals either.

PEACE AND PACIFISM

Among all the "movements" now afoot in the world with the exception of pronouncing for peace, there are some which use the cloak of a worthy cause in spreading propaganda of the most vicious kind.

Every right-minded person wants peace. But, as has been often pointed out, there is a great difference between ideals and peace, there are some which use the cloak of a worthy cause in spreading propaganda of the most vicious kind.

Americanism: Using a $300 radio to hear a record played or of $75.00 phonograph.

Anyway, when they take all the trains of there won't be so many cross country incidents.

Correct this sentence: "I always study the party platforms carefully before deciding how to vote."

When one sees a girl who is the picture of health, he may suspect that she painted the picture herself.

We read that the silvers and lace have the only honest insects. How about the political bee?

A doctor declares that fasting for 15 days will restore one's basic metabolic rate. If you care for that sort of thing.

That museum of journalism at Northwestern University should have no difficulty in assembling a collection of treks.

A monument is proposed for the man who invented postcards. The inscription would appropriately be, "Wish you were here."

We invent about 3,000 new words every year, often find it difficult to express ourselves in parliamentary language.

President Hoover will be officially notified of his nomination soon. We hope he won't be too surprised to think of something nice to say.

An exchange tells of a lady doctor who treats ten beats when she feels a man's pulse, making allowance for the difference of her personality on the patient.

The recent suggestion of a day of prayer for the unemployed reminds us of the fellow who once at a swell banquet who proposed "three cheers for the poor people of Cincinnati."

THE WORLD'S GREATEST
PICKING THE WORLD'S greatest man, like selecting an all-star football team, is a difficult proposition—one that not two persons would likely touch the same result independently.

The test of the world's greatest, however, is to be found in the University of Washington, with a view to placing students of the world's eight greatest on the facade of a new public library.

Adam Smith, the great Beethoven, music; Dante, poetry; Darwin, biological sciences; Leonardo da Vinci, the great Franklin, public service; Goethe, international law; Galileo, physical science; Gutenberg, printing; Horace, history; Homer, poetry; Aristotle, law; Moses, religion; Newton, mathematics; physics; Pasteur, medical science; Plato, philosophy; Shakespeare, literature.

One of the striking aspects of this list is that it includes three poets, besides Shakespeare, indicating that poetry presents the most likely path to immortal fame, however unimpeachable it may be, a practical career during one's lifetime.

so do mice, once they eat RAT RIDDANCE. And they leave no sour behind. Don't take our word for it, though. Rats and DOGS will eat it. Rats will eat up all food to eat RAT RIDDANCE. Two sizes.

bride and wedding certificate given to Murphy and called it a day.

Later on, meditating, no doubt over his friend's happiness, Leftington took up his pipe and suggested that she had been married to the super-proud Mrs. Murphy, confronted her with the truth. Leftington flew, firing of wedded life for the last time. Leftington flew home, but when he got there, Murphy had already died.

Now Mrs. Murphy, if either, finds herself a princess, will be a much more modest person.

The Revolutionary fathers might be surprised to learn that the encroachment of the British crown, Belgium might have been a little prouder, at least, than the super-proud Mrs. Murphy.

Mr. Lonnie Spurlin Tells About Things in Florida

Crestview, Fla.

July 16, 1932.

Editor Clipper.

Am at Dunes, Florida, near

Shoal River on Route No. 1, Crestview, with Uncle Duncan McCallum, one of Crenshaw County's old citizens who is the oldest man in the county.

He is now

eighty-one years old.

The people here are farming some, but not to compare with the farming in Coffee. Crops here are good considering the land and fertility. They have used but little fertilizer.

A number of farmers raise blueberries.

The class committee reported a lesson for the 10th, 16th, 23rd, and now they are bringing 6 cents.

They say the crop this year is about one-third as much as last year. This will almost go by the first of August.

Rain is needed here. There has not been as much rain here during the spring as there has been Elba.

Have visited one man who has been pulling twice during the week. Am sure this will be a novelty to many Coffey Countyans, but they like the goffer to eat.

There were a whole sales at Crestview and Laurel Hill Tuesday, which netted the buyers 3830 pounds of poultry and the sellers $402.50. This is buying my visit.

Respectfully,

LONNIE SPURLIN.

Farmer Of Crenshaw County Recommends Austrian Peas

Mr. Z. L. L. Fail, Crenshaw County Farmer, in discussing the benefits of Austrian winter peas, relates his experience with winter peas, both as to grazing and for fertilizing purposes, both as to those that are good, and Mr. Fail's state-

"I planted three sacks of Austrian winter peas last September between the rows on each side of the cotton stalks; and planted two rows of oats on each side of the terraces. The oats were drilled with a small planter, and the corn plots. The corn plots, which amounted to about 10 acres, affected grazing, for calves used to eat the oats, and when I turned them out, which was about the 10th of April, the calves grew and stayed on the oats, while the adults did not feed them on our men's worth of feed. The corn will probably make 30 bushels per acre.

If I get a good rain pretty soon, this will be good for the corn on corn in sand land that does not follow the turning under of peas that will probably make 10 to 12 bushels of corn per acre.

Signed: Z. L. FAIL,

W. M. RAY, County Agent.

BRADSHAW CLUB MEETS

The Bradshaw Home Demonstration Club met with Miss Alice Hughes at the home of Mrs. Louren Philips on July 10. Plans for the rally were discussed, and then the members enjoyed the card and pattern games.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Winnie Belle Mock. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hosts.
